

Press Release 13th Nov 2012

Limehouse Town Hall Event - We have the keys for the night

An audio walk transporting you back to the turn of the century - live strings and piano from the haunting Waverley Keys – film screening of David Lynch’s ‘The Elephant Man’. A one off event at the half forgotten Limehouse Town Hall - never usually open to the public. We have the keys for the night - come out and play.

Memento: Limehouse Town Hall - “Tracing Stories through Sound” forms the second part of the ‘Memento’ audio walk series – the first ran in 2010, also East London based at Trinity Buoy Wharf and supported by Courvoisier. Integrating fiction into real historical facts to create a memorable track, listeners can’t help but look at a place or space and its stories in a new way. Focusing on the first 50 years of Limehouse Town Hall’s life from 1879, moments come alive through character driven narratives, heart-warming soundtracks and things to touch, taste, see. Take a memento from your experience or leave one behind.

“Our productions usually combine a range of overlapping art forms so it was a challenge and a pleasant surprise to focus on audio only. It works so well in achieving the immersive aims of our site specific work - the Town Hall itself was a gift”. Olivia Bellas - ScreenDeep, Co-Director

More info and video teaser -

<http://screendeep.wordpress.com/memento-limehouse-town-hall-2/>

Memento will showcase at the Town Hall event on Saturday 8th December from 6pm.

Book £5 tickets (proceeds to the Town Hall): <http://mementolimehouse.eventbrite.co.uk>

Press Enquiries: olivia@screendeep.co.uk 07773 691 524

Notes to editors -

Screen Deep are creators of unique productions and fantastic event design. They move in the worlds of film, theatre, music, games and live events. The audience experience is at the centre of their work. Weird and wonderful spaces are key to how their creative vision develops. www.screendeep.co.uk

Limehouse Town Hall Consortium Trust is a registered charity with the aim of repairing and adapting the former Limehouse Town Hall to bring it back into full and sustainable community use as a means of conserving it for the future. www.lthct.org.uk

Memento is supported by:  LOTTERY FUNDED